Womanizer

Empowers everyone to find their individual sexual fulfillment

How?

- We encourage an open-minded and shame free dialogue about (female) sexuality and pleasure and invite everyone who wants to join us
- We regularly speak with international experts, doctors and therapist to gain new insights
- We advocate for equality, diversity and sexual empowerment
- We create beautifully designed premium products that enable people to explore and enjoy their sexuality

The true original

Womanizer was the first product to use changes in air pressure to gently suck and massage the sensitive nerve-endings of the clitoris, leading to a new kind of extraordinary orgasm. This is possible through the patented Pleasure Air Technology, which can only be found in the original Womanizer products.

With the invention of Pleasure Air, we revolutionized the sexual wellness industry in 2014 and created a new category of sex toys.

#IMasturbate

In early 2019, Womanizer launched the #IMasturbate campaign and movement. We wanted to show that masturbation is completely natural, healthy and beautiful. We believe: A fulfilled sexuality – especially with oneself – is an essential part of a healthy life.

However, for many women, this is not yet their reality. A recent Womanizer study* found out that the global Masturbation Gap between men and women is still 68%.

In October 2020, British singer and author Lily Allen joined the movement and is leading the charge on raising awareness for more sex positivity and ending the stigma around female pleasure.

*Conducted by Appinio. July 2020. 14 countries, 7.000 participants.

#IMasturbate

Under the umbrella of our #IMasturbate movement, we have introduced different measures to further destigmatize female pleasure:

Clinical study: Menstrubation (Menstru(ation) + (Mastur)bation)
In 2020, Womanizer conducted the world's first clinical study that examined whether masturbation can help against period pain. Almost 500 women from all over the world participated. The results: Yes, masturbation can help ease period pain and has short- and long-term, pain-relieving effect. With these new findings, we want to close the Gender Health Gap, which disadvantages women.

International Equal Masturbation Day

On September 5th, 2020, Womanizer launched the International Equal Masturbation Day, raising awareness towards the Masturbation Gap, which currently stands at 68%. The date (September 5) is symbolic as this is the day women first masturbated for the year compared to men who started masturbating at the beginning of the year.
